CE Presentation:
Telepsychology Amidst COVID-19: Training Considerations and Clinical Interventions
Presented by: Dr. Colleen Monn

Dr. Colleen Monn is currently licensed as a clinical psychologist in Virginia and Ohio, providing individual and group therapy with a private practice in Cleveland, Ohio. Over the course of her clinical experiences, she has enjoyed working with children, adolescents, and young adults in outpatient mental health and university counseling centers, as well as therapeutic day school settings. She received a B.S. in psychology from Indiana University in Bloomington, IN, and earned a doctorate in clinical psychology from Adler University in Chicago, IL. Dr. Monn completed her APA accredited internship and postdoctoral residency at James Madison University in Harrisonburg, VA.

Dr. Monn has engaged in ongoing telemental health trainings through the APA, National Register for Health Service Psychologists, and Psychotherapy Networker, and earned a certificate as a Clinical Telemental Health Provider. Since the outset of COVID-19 restrictions, she has provided exclusively telemental health services to children, adolescents, and young adults in both individual and group formats. In addition to direct therapy services, Dr. Monn has presented seminars to doctoral level trainees on telemental health interventions for children and adolescents.

Learning Objectives: After attending this intermediate-level workshop, participants will be able to...

1. Describe conditions under which telehealth might be appropriate during COVID-19 pandemic
2. Discuss training implications for supervisee use of telehealth services amidst COVID-19 pandemic
3. Describe 2-3 interventions that might be appropriate with clients when using telehealth services
